

OWL · NON-HUMAN INTELLIGENCE

A new kind of worker owns your recurring tasks. It does not take holiday. It does not resign. It replies in the first hour — every time.

THE COST OF SLOW

Harvard Business Review found buyers are seven times more likely to qualify a vendor they reached within the hour. And seventy-eight percent buy from the first to respond. Slow is lost revenue.

THE CATEGORY

Non-Human Intelligence owns one workflow in your business and runs it. A chatbot waits to be prompted. Owl logs in, does the work, and remembers it. The difference between a tool and a colleague.

THE OFFER

Owl is a managed Non-Human Intelligence for five thousand pounds a month, everything included. Live in forty-eight hours. If it has not paid for itself by day thirty, the first month is refunded.