

OWL · NON-HUMAN INTELLIGENCE

A clear timeline, hard guarantees, and no surprises. This is how a managed AI employee goes from signed to working in forty-eight hours — and what happens next.

Step 01

The discovery call is a conversation, not a pitch. You tell us the one recurring workflow you want off your plate. We ask, we listen, and decide together whether one Non-Human Intelligence can own it cleanly.

Step 02

From the moment the call ends, Owl builds. One brain and four specialists stand up the workflow, wire the tools, and stage it on an isolated server with scoped access. If Owl is not running inside two days, the first month is refunded.

Step 03

Owl onboards into your Slack or Telegram — the place your people already work. You get a dedicated messaging line, a real email, and a presence your team can message. No new portal.

Step 04

The workflow runs without you thinking about it, and your people stop doing the part they resented. On day thirty we count what Owl saved. If it is not more than five thousand pounds, we refund the month.

Step 05

Owl runs constant health checks across the whole stack — its computer, its email, its messaging line, the tools it uses, and the memory it keeps. If something breaks, we know before you do. It is part of the flat fee.

Step 06

Owl is built to own a single recurring workflow and own it completely. Once yours runs without you, we stand up the next job with the same build, the same handover, and the same guarantees.

Step 07

Owl runs white-label, single tier. Your clients see your brand, not ours. It is one clean option, available whenever you are ready, with nothing else to buy.